WE THE PEOPLE
insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common Defence and our Posterity, We ordain and establish this Constitution

Section 1. All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Representatives chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature. No Representative shall hold any other Office under the United States, and no Representative shall be ahabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen. Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to all free Persons, including indentured Servants, but excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other Persons. The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress under this Constitution, and within each subsequent Term of Years which shall be ascertained by Law. But no Enumeration shall be made in any State until such Time as that State may, by its Legislature, consent to the same. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty Thousand Persons, but each State shall have at least one Representative, and until such Time as they may, by their Legislature, consent to the same, the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature. No State shall have more Representatives than the number of Electors in that State. No State shall be deprived of its equal Suffrage in the Senate.
