

BE A UTRGV RESEARCH INTERN

Earn 3 Credit Hours in Political Science
Gain 'Real World' Experience

Where Will I Intern?

Internships are available with UTRGV Political Science professors engaged in research in U.S. Government and Politics, World Politics, Political Economy and Public Policy, and Political Theory.

What Will I Do?

You will put your academic knowledge into practice for 12 hours weekly as you assist a professor with data collection and organization, writing, translation or other activities related to research and publication.

How Will I Benefit?

You will enhance your research skills and acquire a greater understanding of the discovery and sharing of new knowledge under the mentorship of a scholar while earning three upper-level credit hours in Political Science.

How Do I Qualify?

You must have 12 semester credit hours in Political Science, a 3.0 GPA in Political Science courses and a 2.5 cumulative GPA.

Who Do I Contact?

Contact Dr. Ruth Ann Ragland at ruth.ragland@utrgv.edu.