

HONORS COLLEGE: ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE!

- ♦ Are you a high-achieving high school student?
- ♦ Are you a well-rounded person?
- ♦ Do you enjoy small classes and a high level of interaction with classmates and instructors?
- ♦ Do you want to be a campus and community leader?

If you answered “YES” to all these questions, then you should consider applying to The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley’s Honors College about the same time you are thinking of applying to UTRGV.

The UTRGV Honors College:

- ♦ Includes 625 enrolled university students since Fall 2017.
- ♦ Is open to all majors.
- ♦ Offers a challenging and enriched honors curriculum.

As a UTRGV honors student, you will:

- ♦ Take what you have learned in class and apply it outside of the classroom through learning opportunities – study abroad, internships, field trips, service learning, and more.
- ♦ Be involved in faculty-supervised research projects.
- ♦ Be eligible for early registration and enhanced library privileges.
- ♦ Receive preferential placement in campus housing.

Students in the Honors College are not only successful in their courses, but also tend to be successful at securing competitive scholarships and internships, in traveling abroad, and in gaining admission to the best graduate schools, law schools and medical schools.

“The UTRGV Honors College is for talented, ambitious, and motivated students looking for a little bit of an extra challenge.”

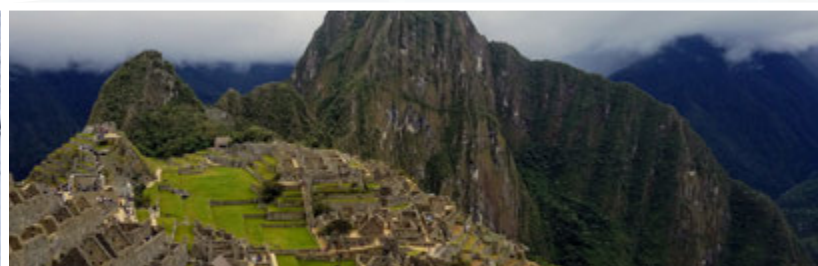

- Dr. Mark C. Andersen,
UTRGV Honors College Dean

TO APPLY TO UTRGV'S HONORS COLLEGE, YOU NEED TO:

- ♦ Submit an application at www.utrgv.edu/honors.
- ♦ Submit the names and email addresses of two teachers, counselors, or coaches that can write letters of recommendation for you.
- ♦ Have an ACT composite score of 24 or higher, or the equivalent SAT score.

There is no deadline to apply to the Honors College.
Completed applications are reviewed as they arrive.
