• DIRECTOR'S NOTES

“

My concept of this play is to show the lives of real people, while using metaphor and minimalism to tell their story. With minimal set and virtually no props, you, the audience members, are asked to use your imaginations to fill in the blanks. My goal is to emphasize the characters themselves and their personal stories.

In what seems to be a time of division in this country, this play promotes understanding, empathy, and a sense of solidarity. Everyone has the right to an education and to pursue their dreams. Within the play, we witness the development of a positive, loving Teacher-Student relationship that fosters this idea. Both Tomás and the Library Lady take the time to see and hear each other. Through communication and understanding, they build a bond that has a meaningful, permanent impact.

In the words of Tomás Rivera himself, “A degree of love brings security to a child and makes him feel worthwhile. A child realizes he is loved and in turn will respond as a unique individual to that love.”

I hope you enjoy the show, and...Welcome Back to the Theatre!

- Richard Edmonson

ABOUT THE DIRECTOR

Richard Edmonson has been employed at The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley (formerly UTPA) in various capacities since 2009 and is currently Lecturer III. He received his Bachelor of Arts in Theatre Performance from West Texas A&M University and his Master of Arts in Theatre from the University of Texas-Pan American. He has directed The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas, The Imposter, Venus in Fur, Antigone, The Miracle Worker, Evita, Real Women Have Curves, and To Kill a Mockingbird for the university main stage. In addition to teaching and directing, Richard enjoys performing and was most recently seen as Herr Schultz in Cabaret and as Beadle Bamford in Sweeney Todd. Richard is currently in the process of earning his Educational Doctorate Degree in Curriculum and Instruction for Higher Ed.

She has worked as a freelance costume designer and/or costume shop manager from the Midwest to the Northeast and Texas, most recently serving four summers as an assistant costume shop manager/cutter/drafter at Chautauqua Theater Company.

Ryan Moore is the Costume Shop Manager, as well as a Part Time Lecturer in the Theater Department. He holds a BFA from Webster University, as well as an MFA from The University of Arizona. He has worked in costume shops across the country and had some of his design work featured at the Prague Quadrennial 2019. His designs can be seen on stages, red carpets, music videos, album covers, and in print.

ABOUT TOMÁS RIVERA

(1935–1984)

The real Tomás Rivera was an author, poet, and teacher, and was born on December 22, 1935, in Crystal City, Texas, the son of Florencio M. and Josefa (Hernández) Rivera. After graduating from Crystal City High School, he followed in his father's footsteps and worked as a migrant worker until he was twenty. He received B.S. and M.Ed. degrees in English education from Southwest Texas State University and taught in public schools and at Southwest Texas Junior College in Uvalde. He then went to the University of Oklahoma, where he earned his M.A. in Spanish literature and, in 1969, his doctorate in Romance languages and literature. After finishing his Ph.D., he taught at Sam Houston State University and served on the planning team that built the University of Texas at San Antonio, where he served as chairman of the Romance language department, associate dean, and finally vice president. Rivera was best known for his work ...y no se lo tragó la tierra (And the Earth Did Not Part). Rivera received the Quinto Sol Award for that book in 1971. He also contributed to a book of poems, Always and Other Poems (1973), and was a frequent contributor to El Grito, a bilingual journal of Mexican American thought. He published numerous short prose pieces and a wide range of essays on literature and higher education. He was instrumental in the formation of the Tomás Rivera Institute for Public Policy on Chicanos in Higher Education on the Pomona College campus. Rivera married Concepción Garza on November 27, 1978. He had three adult children at the time of his death in Fontana, California, on May 16, 1984.

.....
Department of Theatre

University Productions is the production organization of the UTRGV Department of Theatre which produces both live theatre and television/film productions.

The UTRGV Theatre for Young Audiences is dedicated to connecting to children through theatre and promoting their awareness and knowledge of the human condition and human cultures, especially in relation to behaviors, ideas, and values expressed in works of human imagination and thought.

The Latino Theatre Initiatives is a transnational, bilingual and community-responsive group which was founded to produce Spanish language theatre for children in South Texas and northern Mexico. LTI has since expanded and now specializes in original and multimedia plays for a public celebration and creative-critical exploration of Latino culture in both new and traditional forms.

The UTRGV Theatre Department is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Theatre and the Texas Educational Theatre Association.

For over 35 years, Tom Grabowski, former department chair of the Theatre/TV/Film and Communication Departments, worked at the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley (UTRGV) and its legacy institution the University of Texas-Pan American. During that time, he mentored countless students and other faculty and staff, and designed more than 300 productions for the theatre, music department, dance program and the folkloric dance company.

His work as a scenic painter, set designer, and lighting designer set the standard for scenic design and construction for over thirty years at the Albert L. Jeffers Theatre. His substantial creative and artistic contributions to productions for University Theatre and University Productions include Much Ado About Nothing, Man of La Mancha, Noises Off, and The House of Bernarda Alba.

In 2015, Tom retired from UTRGV and moved to Potsdam, NY, where he and his wife Laura work at the State University of New York (SUNY) Potsdam. His love of teaching, lighting, Hawaiian shirts and rainbows are legendary in the theatre department, and he is still greatly missed as a colleague and friend.

In his honor, Tom's colleagues and friends have established the Tom Grabowski Theatre Endowment at UTRGV. Annual awards from the endowment will help students majoring in Theatre who are active participants in the Theatre Department at UTRGV. Funds awarded may help with expenses directly related to their pursuit of a major in Theatre.
