highlighted current initiatives at UTRGV. The community engagement training furthered staff development and encouraged inclusion within the culture of service. Community Engagement is one of UTRGV's core priorities and strategic initiatives are being implemented to fulfill the University's mission. Community Engagement at the university level requires a mutually beneficial exchange of knowledge and resources between students, faculty, staff, and the community. Feedback provided at the inaugural community engagement training will assist the Office of Community Engagement in bridging the gap between University staff and our community.
