

VALLEY LEGISLATIVE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM 90th Legislative Session Spring 2027

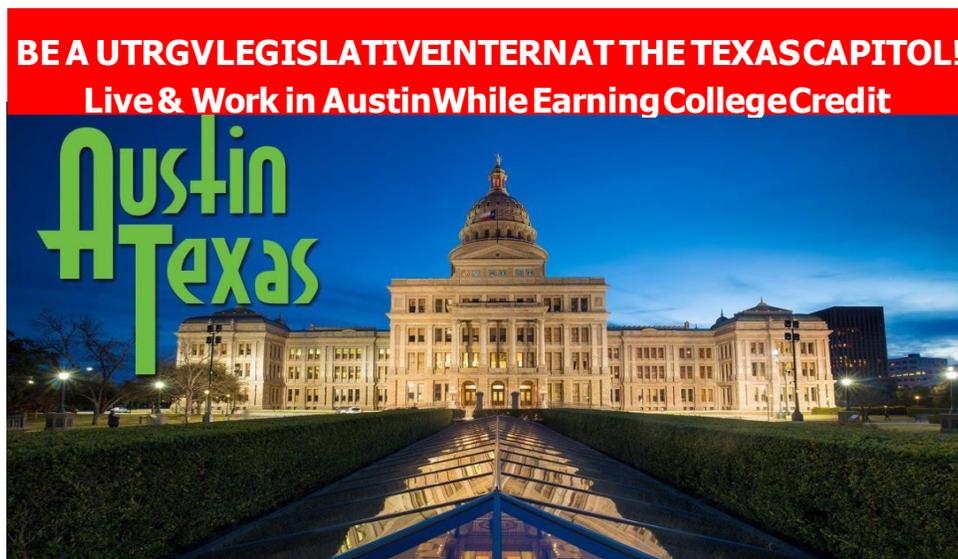

UPDATED: February 2026

- ... OFFICE OF GOVERNMENTAL RELATIONS
- ... DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

The Rio Grande Valley Legislative Internship Program (VLIP) is an academic program of The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley made possible with funding approved by Dr. Guy Bailey, Founding President of UTRGV. It offers opportunities for undergraduate and graduate students to serve as interns in the Texas Legislature during regular legislative sessions.

Undergraduate students receive six (6) credit hours for participating in the VLIP, which provides “real world” experience through assisting legislative staff in administration, engaging in research and writing, and involvement in all facets of the governmental process. Graduate students receive academic credit hours as provided by their academic departments. The length of the internship is for the duration of the 140-day legislative session, and interns are responsible for their academic admissions and enrollment in the courses required for participation. Qualified undergraduate and graduate students interested in the political process and in giving back to the community are encouraged to apply for the internship.

During legislative sessions, VLIP interns will be placed in the offices of members of the Legislature representing the Rio Grande Valley. Interns are exposed to the legislative process of both chambers of the Texas Legislature. Their experiences often serve as the springboard for selecting public service careers. The hope is that many interns will continue to work in public service at the federal, state, and local levels of government.

RIO GRANDE VALLEY LEGISLATIVE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

SPRING 2027 SESSION PROGRAM INFORMATION

THE PROGRAM

The VLIP is a program of The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley made possible with funding approved by Dr. Guy Bailey, Founding President of UTRGV, to provide undergraduate and graduate students with the opportunity to serve as interns in the Texas Legislature during regular legislative sessions. Interns are placed in the Capitol Offices (Austin, TX) of the Rio Grande Valley's legislative delegation.

ACADEMIC CREDIT

Interns must be enrolled in The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley and receive credit for their internship experience. Interns are responsible for their academic admissions and enrollment in the necessary courses. Undergraduate interns may earn six (6) hours of Political Science academic credit by fulfilling the requirements of their internship experience. Graduate students receive academic credit hours as specified by their academic department.

PROGRAM DETAILS

The 90th Texas Legislature convenes January 12, 2027, and the session will adjourn on May 31, 2027; interns are required to attend orientation training prior to the beginning of the session. Financial support will be available to support the internship. Interns are responsible for housing, transportation, and other expenses.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Interns will be assigned to work in the offices of members of the Texas Legislature representing the Rio Grande Valley. The position requires the ability to perform and manage a number of diverse activities, including writing a variety of documents, analyzing proposals, performing research, and meeting with stakeholders. Integrity, good judgment, independent thinking, a high degree of ingenuity, resourcefulness, and professionalism are critical to the successful management of an intern's responsibilities. Special attention must be given to confidentiality and other protocols of the host office.

ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible students must:

- Be enrolled at The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley
- Have completed at least 60 undergraduate hours, including 12 hours in POLS/ GOVT courses from an accredited college or university
- Undergraduates must possess a 3.0 G.P.A. in POLS/GOVT courses and a 2.5 cumulative G.P.A. Eligible graduate students must be currently enrolled in a degree program at The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley, have a minimum 3.0 GPA, and enroll in the appropriate course(s) in their academic departments.
- Demonstrate exceptional skills in writing, composition, and computer literacy.

STUDENT EMPLOYEE STATUS

Students who are selected for VLIP will be hired by the university as Undergraduate Research Assistants. This status allows UTRGV to pay interns monthly (with applicable tax deduction) and provide health insurance.

STUDENT INTERN CODE OF CONDUCT

As an intern working for an elected official, your role will encompass a range of responsibilities that require a high level of professionalism, ethical conduct, and discretion. This internship offers a unique opportunity to gain firsthand experience in the political and legislative process, contributing to the effective functioning of the elected official's office.

DISCRETION AND CONFIDENTIALITY

Given the sensitive nature of the work involved in an elected official's office, interns are expected to exercise the utmost discretion and maintain strict confidentiality of all proprietary, sensitive, or personal information they encounter. This includes:

Handling Sensitive Information: Interns will have access to confidential information, including constituent casework, policy discussions, legislative documents, and strategic planning. It is imperative to handle such information with care and ensure it is not disclosed to unauthorized individuals.

Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA): As part of the onboarding process, interns may be required to sign a Non-Disclosure Agreement to formally acknowledge their obligation to maintain confidentiality of certain documents and information. This agreement serves to protect the integrity of the elected official's office and the privacy of constituents.

Professional Conduct: Interns must demonstrate a high level of professionalism in all interactions, both within the office and when representing the elected official in public. This includes adhering to office policies, respecting privacy, and upholding ethical standards.

Student Intern Code of Conduct: In accepting a VLIP placement students must acknowledge, understand, agree to comply with, and sign the Student Intern Code of Conduct.
