

Residence Halls - Roommate Agreement

Instructions:

- Read and complete each item.
- Each roommate/Suitemate should make his/her individual response. Being honest will save time and minimize hurt feelings later.
- If responses to questions are different, discuss that difference and try to reach an understanding that roommates can live with.
- Write down your agreements. If there are things not listed in the agreement that you feel may be important to you, write them down and discuss them too.
- After the Roommate Agreement has been signed, return it to your RA for safekeeping and for Housing & Residence Life records.
- If problems arise, start with discussion. If you want a mediator, utilize your RA or Housing Coordinator.

Roommate Bill of Rights

The basic rights of a roommate include:

- ✓ The right to read and study free from undue interference in one’s own room. Unreasonable noise and other distractions inhibit the exercise of this right.
- ✓ The right to sleep without undue disturbance from noise, guests of roommate, etc.
- ✓ The right to expect that a roommate will respect one’s personal belongings.
- ✓ The right to a clean environment in which to live.
- ✓ The right to free access to one’s own room and facilities without pressure from a roommate.
- ✓ The right to privacy.
- ✓ The right to houseguests with the exception that guests are to respect the rights of the host’s roommate and other hall residents.
- ✓ The right to conflict mediation. Residence hall staff members are available for assistance in settling conflicts.
- ✓ The right to be free from fear of intimidation, physical and/or emotional harm.
- ✓ The right to expect reasonable cooperation in the use of room-shared appliances (such as the TV, micro-fridge, etc.)
- ✓ The right to be free from pressure or ridicule regarding your lifestyle choices.
