

State Employee Charitable Campaign (SECC)

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What is the State Employee Charitable Campaign (SECC)?

Texas' State Employee Charitable Campaign (SECC) is one of the largest state employee campaigns in the nation. One of the great benefits of the SECC is the wide variety of charities and causes represented – there is something for everyone. They range from local organizations and statewide organizations to large well-known national and international groups.

The SECC is governed at both the statewide and local levels. This ensures that the campaign is conducted fairly and equitably under a strict set of guidelines which give donors confidence in both the charities that benefit, and the methods used to solicit.

Giving to a favorite charity through the SECC is an easy, effective, and cost-efficient way to give. Through UTRGV, contributions may be made via payroll deduction or monetary one-time payment. These contributions help improve the quality of life for people in communities locally, across the country and around the world.

Those charities that wish to participate must meet stringent legal requirements, and then be reviewed in detail by teams of state employees to ensure:

- They are recognized by the IRS as 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations and registered with the Secretary of State.
- They are audited (or reviewed) annually by an accountant in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards.
- They provide direct or indirect health and human services.
- They spend no more than 25 percent of funds raised on administration and fund raising — unless they qualify for an exception due to special circumstances.
