Dallas / Fort Worth Based Interventional and Diagnostic Radiology Physician Assistant Position

Radiology Associates of North Texas P.A. has an opening for a full-time Interventional / Diagnostic Radiology Physician Assistant. This position will start a 12 month training program with hospital and clinic rotations through Fluoroscopy and Interventional Radiology. Training takes place in Fort Worth. Once training has been completed, the majority of the PA’s time will be spent covering multiple sites in Fort Worth with some coverage in Dallas, rotating with a team of PAs. The schedule is Monday – Friday, 8:00am – 5:00pm. There is no required call, nights, or weekends as part of this position.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities:
- Perform H&P’s, consents, pre/post procedural patient care
- Patient admissions, discharges, inpatient/outpatient consults and follow-ups
- Diagnostic and vascular interventional radiology procedures (not all inclusive) including preliminary diagnostic interpretation reports, Barium enemas, esophagrams, upper GI series, arthrograms, myelograms, lumbar punctures, central venous access, biopsies, drainages, paracentesis, and thoracentesis

Minimum Education, Certification, and Prior Experience Required:
- Master’s in physician assistant studies or equivalent from an accredited program
- ACLS/BLS and PALS certification
- Current medical license (ideally Texas) in good standing without disciplinary action
- NCCPA board certification
- New graduates welcome to apply

Radiology Associates offers a competitive benefits package that includes:
- Quarterly Incentive Bonus Plan
- Post Training Base Salary Increase
- Health Insurance (employer paid for employee)
- Group Life Insurance (employer paid); Group Long Term Disability (employer paid)
- Voluntary Dental, Vision, Short Term Disability
- Malpractice coverage (employer paid)
- PTO days (15), Holidays (7.5), CME Days (5)
- Flexible Spending Account (FSA); Health Savings Account (HSA) – employer contribution
- 401k/Roth Savings – employer match up to 4% plus profit sharing contribution of up to 5% quarterly when eligible
- Professional expense allowance

Please contact Todd Howard or Charise Marvine at radjobs@radntx.com to learn more.