UTRio Grande Valley

PHILOSOPHY (BA)
Double Major or Minor Track
Catalog: 2018-19
COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

Degree Info

Training in philosophy helps one think more clearly, more perceptively, and more effectively. Regardless of one's personal and occupational goals, and regardless of the projects in which one is interested, being able to think clearly and effectively about them is important. Americans today switch careers (not just jobs) two to three times on average over their lives. More than ever it is important to have the learning, critical thinking, and analytical skills that philosophy provides to be able to transition between different professions. The study of philosophy uniquely helps one to better understand and appreciate oneself, the world outside, and how the two are related. In order to live a happy and fulfilled life, it is important to make sense of life and one's place in it. The satisfaction of that need is at the core of philosophy.

Additional Info

- Students majoring or minoring in Philosophy are strongly encouraged to seek advising and mentorship from the Philosophy faculty. Please attend departmental Major/Minor Meetings which occur each semester just prior to registration
- Students may major in Philosophy with or without a minor or second major. If Philosophy is the sole major/minor there are additional degree requirements.
- Though there are no official tracks or concentrations, Philosophy majors are encouraged to focus on topics related to their particular post graduate goals. Please see Philosophy faculty for guidance and mentorship.
- Students should take PHIL 4380: Senior Seminar.
