

Physics & Astronomy FAQs

- What should I do if I have a letter grade of B or C? Should I keep the letter grade or choose Pass ?
Answer. Obviously, if you have a letter grade A there is no need to change it to a Pass. However, if you have B or C you are strongly advised to contact your advisor before taking any action.
- As a Physics Major, who can I contact for additional questions about “Pass/No Pass Grading”?
 - On the Edinburg Campus:
 - Nicolas A. Pereyra (Physics & Astronomy Undergraduate Advisor) nicolas.pereyra@utrgv.edu
 - If you are in the Educational Physics Concentration you may also contact
 - Monica Yates (UTeach Advisor) monica.yates@utrgv.edu
 - On the Brownsville Campus:
 - Ahmed Touhami (Physics & Astronomy Undergraduate Advisor) ahmed.touhami@utrgv.edu
 - If you are in the Educational Physics Concentration you may also contact
 - Danuta Mogilska (UTeach Advisor) danuta.mogilska@utrgv.edu
- As a graduate student in the Physics MS program, who can I contact for additional questions about “Pass/No Pass Grading”?
 - Hamidreza Ramezani (Physics & Astronomy Graduate Committee) hamidreza.ramezani@utrgv.edu
- As a graduate student in the Science and Technology MSIS program, who can I contact for additional questions about “Pass/No Pass Grading”?
 - Edgar Corpuz (Physics & Astronomy Graduate Committee) edgar.corpuz@utrgv.edu